

Field Security Training Level 2 (Sanctuary Consultancy)

Security is as much an individual responsibility as well as for the organisation. In humanitarian work, lack of security assurance works against proper and effective program implementation. Since humanitarians are not armed, their security depends on prevention, deterrence and acceptance. This security training focuses specifically on enabling personnel to carry out their work in unfamiliar or potentially adverse environments

Who is this training for?

All staff in humanitarian organisations, development workers, embassies and civil servants

Topics to be trained include;

- Security Foundation/Basic Security

- Active Shooter/Aggressor Survival
- Hostile Observation Awareness
- Government and NGO Vehicle Checkpoints
- Interviews and Interrogation/corruption Abatement and Mitigation
- Skills Application
- Emergency medical/ First Aid
- Active/self defense

What will you take home?

At the end of the training, participants will be able to among others, develop, exercise, and implement:

- Measures that detect, deter and deny access to perpetrators
- Gender specific self-defensive mechanisms.
- Handle high threat environments
- Skills of hostile observation awareness among others
